Company Speech

– Divorce AI is divorce financial reporting - a new category of intelligent tools that combine divorce and wealth management. Powered by Artificial Intelligence, expert knowledge, and comprehensive reporting technology, Divorce AI is built by people who care about families going through a divorce.

Divorce AI enables you to find what's important, understand why it's important, and put that information to use in the most powerful way possible. In short, we turn your future divorce into an easy-to-read report.

The average divorce costs a whopping $20,000. That number can quickly grow if you are not properly prepared for a divorce. That is why every divorce starts here.

We estimate all of your post-divorce expenses and incomes, asset separation options, future budget, net worth, and more. We are trying to save you time and money by better preparing you for a divorce. Divorce AI helps you understand the financial implications of your divorce and estimates your post-divorce financials, so you can better execute and negotiate the terms of your divorce.

We'll admit it. We are not pretending to be your lawyer. Instead, we are empowering you with valuable information so you can take back control when hiring a lawyer. The value Divorce AI offers is an ability to quickly research, calculate and estimate future divorce outcomes without paying large lawyer fees. Guess what? You can even download all of your Divorce AI reports and show them to your friends, future lawyers, or save them for later use.

Divorce AI's technology allows for extremely affordable prices compared to other options. All you have to do is sign-up, answer a few short questions, and sit back while we do the rest. We will provide you with easy-to-read Divorce AI report.
